The symposium will comprise of lectures from experts in ophthalmology and ophthalmic imaging. The proposed topics include:
- Current and future advances in ophthalmic imaging
- Interpretation of OCT images - qualitative and quantitative image analysis
- OCT used in research and diagnosis
- Case studies
- OCT Angiograms

Part of the critically acclaimed “International Images for Science 2016” exhibition featuring the world’s best scientific photography will be on display.

Registration Fee: £30.00

For further details, please contact
Bob Tapper ASIS FRPS at medicalsecretary@rps.org
Book online: http://www.rps.org/events/2017/june/10/ophthalmic-oct-imaging-2017

With sincere thanks to our Sponsors:

Science Photo Library, Heidelberg Engineering, EMIS Health and EMIS Care

Images courtesy of Heidelberg Engineering